- Panel Discussion/Q&A

The NAAPT, NSTA and the NASDPTS have agreed that there was a need for clarity and alignment around the role of school transportation in the current COVID environment. The three organizations decided to form a collaborative task force to conduct focused research and develop a set of guidelines within a framework that would be meaningful for the member constituencies of the three organizations as well as the educational community at large.

Jim Regan of CAPITALWORKS was asked to develop a proposed approach and overall work plan for the task force. Tim Ammon of DECISION SUPPORT GROUP was added to the team to support the implementation and realization of the plan. Together they will act as the Program Management Team.

The structure of the task force includes a Steering Committee, the Program Management Team and three Sub Committees supported by 75+ professionals from within the industry. The goal is to have the results by early July.
